

Friday 27th May
Pants on Fire
Ovid's Metamorphoses

Pants on Fire's actor-musician extravaganza relocates Roman mythology to 1940's wartime Britain. Cupid – an evacuee with a catapult, Narcissus – a Hollywood Matinee Idol drooling over his screen image and an Andrews Sisters Chorus finding close harmony amid cosmic chaos. '75 fantastical minutes from a company that certainly lives up to the cheekiness of its name. A breakthrough show.'

About a Bench

About a Bench is a charming performance about human communication and interaction. It is the tale of the bench; the silent protagonist that ties together seven stories stretched across decades.

The two actors brilliantly portray a staggering array of brightly coloured characters, with stories varying from black comedy to tragedy.

Bound

Compelled by the threat of bankruptcy, fishing trawler the Violet and its mismatched crew are forced out into treacherous weather. The new bracingly physical show from Bear Trap Theatre Company. Six actors, five chairs, one table and an ocean. Bound.

"This is a small but beautifully thought-out piece of work, a sea-bleached story told with passion and performed with real dynamism."
Lyn Gardner. The Guardian
